As with my other conics lessons the students begin by doing the Wax Paper Activity (Activity 4). As I move around the room I notice that some student put the second point inside the circle instead of outside the circle. Once most the students have a good design, I ask if they see a design like they did on the previous wax paper activities.

Once I had enough comic paper to work with I started making the ribbon. First I covered the surface of my table with wax paper because this project uses lots of Mod Podge and you don't want the strips to stick to the surface of your table! I used Mod Podge for paper for this project, a craft paint brush, wax paper, and some scissors.
